To Whom it may Concern:

Having attended the Winter Way auditions in Riga, Latvia November 11 and 12, 2007 I would be happy to recommend the experience to other casting directors.

The singers presented were uniformly strong, with several standouts. We heard approximately 60 singers over the two days, many from former Soviet republics, and the opportunity would be particularly ideal for anyone casting Slavic repertoire or anyone looking for big Verdi and Puccini voices.

The auditions were well organized and efficient and the artists were overall of a very high level.

Accommodations in Riga were pleasant and the audition space and hotel conveniently located. Peter Fleming and his staff were always available for any questions or requirements which arose.

I found these auditions valuable and enjoyable and would recommend future sessions to other casting directors.

Sincerely,
